

Sean O'Brien: Web Developer

---

Objective

Development of dynamic Web content for educational environments, with a focus on emerging technologies and new techniques for instruction.

Education

University of Connecticut Storrs, CT July 2007 – Aug. 2008

- M.A.Ed. Educational Technology

University of Connecticut Storrs, CT Aug. 2001 – Aug. 2005

- B.A. Interactive Digital Media, Minor in English, Concentration in Creative Writing

Job Skills

Development: HTML, DHTML, XML, CSS, Java, JavaScript, PHP, MySQL, Firebird, AJAX

Software Tools: Adobe – Creative Suite (Acrobat, After Effects, Audition, Illustrator, Dreamweaver, Fireworks, Flash, InDesign, Photoshop)

Microsoft – Office (Access, Excel, PowerPoint, Publisher, Word), FrontPage, Works

Free/Open Source – Eclipse, GIMP, Inkscape, Nvu, OpenOffice.org, Quanta Plus

Operating Systems: GNU/Linux (Debian, Fedora, SuSE, Ubuntu), Windows (NT, XP, Server 2003, Vista)

Experience

Lead Web Developer: UConn Student Financial Aid Services Storrs, CT Oct. 2006 – Present

- Design and maintenance of Financial Aid, Student Employment, and Veterans Benefits websites.
- Implementation of Joomla content management system and design of templates.
- Development of Form Portal web application, integration with ImageNow and PeopleSoft.

Managing Editor: The Long River Review Storrs, CT Aug. 2004 – June 2005

- Management of The Long River Review, UConn's student literary magazine.
- Maintenance of website for The Long River Review, design of promotional materials, and copy editing.

Web Designer: UConn English Department Storrs, CT Aug. 2004 – Dec. 2004

- Design of English Department website and development of faculty directory.

Graphic Designer: UConn Creative Writing Program Storrs, CT Aug. 2003 – May 2005

- Maintenance of Creative Writing Program website and design of Poetic Journeys website.
- Design of Creative Writing newsletter, calendar of events, brochures, and flyers.

Public Relations Manager: The Long River Review                      Storrs, CT                      Aug. 2003 – June 2004

- Coordination of staff and events for The Long River Review, UConn's student literary magazine.
- Maintenance of website for The Long River Review, design of promotional materials, and copy editing.

Mentor: UConn First-Year Experience Program                      Storrs, CT                      Aug. 2003 – Dec. 2003

- Responsible for preparing course materials, facilitating a classroom, and assisting a professor on the topic of "Human Rights: Facing History & Ourselves" (INTD 182.08).

Orientation Leader: UConn Orientation Services                      Storrs, CT                      Jan. 2003 – July 2003

- Responsible for leading tours, teaching, and facilitating groups of freshman and transfer students.

Computer Specialist: UConn Student Financial Aid Services                      Storrs, CT                      Aug. 2001 – Sep. 2006

- Design and maintenance of Financial Aid, Student Employment, and Veterans Benefits websites.
- Implementation of JobX job listing and search facility for students.

References

References are available upon request.

Additional Information

For an electronic version of this résumé, visit <http://seandiggity.com/resume/>

For samples of my work, including my digital projects, visit <http://seandiggity.com>